

A3 Workshop on Interdisciplinary Research Connecting Mathematics and Biology

Lecture Hall, BICMR, Peking University
April 22-24, 2016

Workshop Description:

Systems biology has become an emerging approach to biological and biomedical scientific research in the recent past decade. This workshop provides a forum for China-Japan-Korea researchers to show recent research finding in systems biology. We hope the workshop can initiate, explore, identify some potential collaborations on research between China-Japan-Korea.

Organizing committee

- Lei Zhang (Peking University, China)
- Wei Lin (Fudan University, China)
- Gouhei Tanaka (University of Tokyo, Japan)
- Jae Kyoung Kim (KAIST, Korea)

Scientific committee

- Qing Nie (Peking University & UC Irvine)
- Pingwen Zhang (Peking University)
- Yasumasa Nishiura (Tohoku University)
- Eun Ok Jung (Konkuk University)
- Hyeonbae Kang (Inha University)

Sponsors:

- NSFC Tianyuan Foundation
- NSFC Key Project for A3 Foresight Program
- Key Lab of Mathematics and Applied Mathematics (PKU), Ministry of Education
- PKU Interdisciplinary Research Laboratory of Mathematics and Biology (Bio-Math Lab)
- Beijing International Center for Mathematical Research (BICMR)

Speaker List (* Plenary speaker):

- Luonan Chen (SIBS, CAS)
- Kwang-hyun Cho* (KAIST)
- Jianfeng Feng* (Fudan University & Warwick University)
- Hao Ge (Peking University)
- Dan Hu (Shanghai JiaoTong University)
- Ah-Ram Kim (Handong Univ)
- Jae Kyoung Kim (KAIST)
- Yangjin Kim (Konkuk Univ)
- Gen Kurosawa (Riken)
- Chang Hyeong Lee (UNIST)
- Eun Ok Jung (Konkuk University)
- Jinzhi Lei (Tsinghua University)
- Tiejun Li (Peking University)
- Wei Lin (Fudan University)
- Shinji Nakaoka (University of Tokyo)
- Qing Nie (Peking University & UC Irvine)
- Mariko Okada* (Riken)
- Koichi Saeki (Graduate University for Advanced Studies (SOKENDAI))
- Eun Bo Shim (Kangwon National Univ.)
- Gouhei Tanaka (University of Tokyo)
